

Floreat

Celebrating the effort, endeavour and enterprise of Salopians

1 May 2020

I Thomassen (MSH, V)

For consistently going above and beyond in the remote learning period producing outstanding work across all her academic subjects

C Hancock (M, UVI)

For her thoughtful and insightful article on autism published in Spyglass Magazine earlier this month

R McCourt (Rt, LVI)

For his willingness to share his skills and passion as a magician offering a weekly Magic Masterclass to fellow Salopians as part of the virtual co-curriculum.

E Feng (M, V)

For her Chaucerian character portrait work as part of the creative writing group and her continued engagement with this area of school life

A Ceolin (Rt, UVI)

For his fascinating Spanish oral presentation on bullfighting demonstrating linguistic flair and an insightful exploration of the subject matters

C Hamilton (I, UVI)

For his outstanding independent work in art, utilising the virtual world of Minecraft to create digital 3D visualisations of his own infinity spaces and mathematical constructs.

A Olkhovskiy (Rt, UVI)

For his detailed and insightful Spanish presentation on the cinema director Pedro Almodovar, the culmination of two years of really hard work

J Dowd (Rb, UVI)

For his fascinating article 'Helping Our Bees' published in the most recent edition of My Shrewsbury magazine, and his continued service to the Shrewsbury School beekeeping society

Floreat floreat (exclamation) used before a name to express one's wish that the specified institution or person will flourish