July 2018

Dear Parents and Guardians,

As we come to the end of a hectic year and a wonderful Salopian Week, I just wanted to write to thank you for your support for our great school over the course of the last eight years. It has certainly felt like a real privilege to work with our diverse community at what has proved to be a pivotal time for the school. In my final assembly I was able to tell the school how proud I have been, and will remain, of their numerous achievements.

By all accounts, Salopian Week and the Leavers' Ball, all bathed in 'wall to wall' sunshine, have embedded many memories for all those of us leaving Shrewsbury at the end of this year to mull over and enjoy well into the future.

I leave you with a verse from Ella Wilcox, which seems to have been the defining theme of the last week:

One ship sails East,
And another West,
By the self-same winds that blow,
'Tis the set of the sails
And not the gales,
That tells the way we go.

As we head West for exciting opportunities over new horizons, we wish fair breezes for Shrewsbury's 28th Headmaster and all things Salopian into the future.

Floreat Salopia!

Yours sincerely,
